

SANGHARSH- which means struggle, and that is the value every member in our team lives by. We at SANGHARSH never give up, we struggle to be better, to change and to bring change and this is what has kept us moving forward even after numerous failures. As just a college dramatics team, we don't have any obligation to perform for any social cause or anything else rather in the inter college competitions, but we feel like we have an obligation to the society and with the support of our team and our college we always get the opportunity to contribute our share in the development of this already beautiful society. SANGHARSH was started just four years ago as an usual college drama team with few members but we have grown leaps and bounds in these years and now we are a family of 30 members working together.

WHAT DO WE DO?

“SANGHARSH IS NOT JUST A TEAM, IT'S A FAMILY” a family which works for the society. We believe that theatre is not just for the entertainment it can be a medium of connection between the people, it can bring change. So we are a Dramatics Family who shouts about things that people shy away from, we show the shortcomings and flaws of our society in a plain daylight and look for improvement.

What Have We Done

In terms of what we could have done, we didn't achieve anything substantial but have taken steps towards great things for sure. We have performed in different small schools highlighting many issues like education, eve-teasing, etc. under the banner of NSS.
